

The Numerical Aerospace Simulation (NAS) Facility is located at NASA Ames Research Center, Moffett Field, California -- right in the middle of Silicon Valley's renowned technological community. Ames Research Center, about 12 miles north of San Jose and 40 miles south of San Francisco, is easily reached from the Bay Area's major airports and highways. In order to visit, you must have a NAS employee contact the Ames Badge Office to submit a visitor request for you.

From San Francisco Area:

- Take Hwy 101 South
- Take the Moffett Field exit (the exit after the Moffett Blvd. Exit)
- At the first stop sign, you will be at the Moffett Field main gate
- Drive forward and tell the guard you're a visitor. You'll be directed to the Badge Office on the right, where you will pick up your visitor badge. Be prepared to show your photo identification.
